While designed for those entering the Church and adults who have not yet received the Sacrament of Confirmation, this class is open to all.

On account of the large number of Mass intentions currently scheduled, we will not be taking any new intentions until the fall. When we begin taking intentions again, an announcement will be placed in the bulletin.

SAINT LAWRENCE

St. Lawrence is highly extolled by the Fathers and held in great veneration by all Christian nations. "As Jerusalem was glorified by Stephen, so is Rome renowned by its Lawrence from the rising to the setting of the sun," says the holy Pope Leo in a sermon on the feast of this Saint. Spain is regarded as his native country; but he was brought up and educated in Rome. Sixtus II ordained him deacon and made him the first of the seven deacons of the Roman Church, wherefore he is also called Archdeacon of the Pope. This was a most important office; for it included the administration of the treasures of the Church. Exceedingly glorious is the martyrdom of the young Levite. When Pope Sixtus II was being dragged to the Catacombs for execution, Lawrence cried out to him: "Whither goest thou, Father, without thy son? Where art thou hastening, holy priest, without thy deacon? Never wert thou accustomed to offer the Holy Sacrifice without thy minister." And how singularly consoling are the words of the high-priest to his deacon: "I am not forsaking thee, my son, greater combats await thee. Cease to weep, after three days thou wilt follow me, the Levite, his priest."

During those three days the deacon hastened through the city, distributed the goods of the Church to the needy and in so doing he wrought several miracles. To the prefect of the city who ordered him to deliver up the treasures of the Church, he presented the poor of Christ as the treasures of the Church. On this account the heathen became enraged, and subjected the young hero to all manner of torments. St. Lawrence was scourged, struck with leaden balls, stretched on the rack, burned with red hot metallic plates. The judge then threatened him with an entire night of tortures. Radiant with an unearthly brightness, the intrepid sufferer exclaimed, "For me this night has no darkness, but breaks forth into the bright light of day." Afterwards he was laid on a burning gridiron, whence he addressed the tyrant, "Behold, wretch, the power of my God; your heat for me is refreshing coolness, but it will end for you in
